Jad Sheikali is a privacy attorney who focuses his practice on class actions, data privacy, cybersecurity, and technology transactions. Jad holds a certification in Information Privacy Professional/United States (CIPP/US) given by the International Association of Privacy Professionals (IAPP).

Prior Experience

- McGuire Law, P.C., Associate, 2017-2020
- Bollinger Connolly Krause, LLC, Associate, 2017

Awards

Illinois Super Lawyers, Recognized as a Rising Star, 2019-2021

News & Resources

Publications

- Seven Considerations For BIPA Class Action Defense (May 28, 2020)
  Author
  Law360 Expert Analysis

Seminars & Events

- Biometrics: Understanding the Tech, the Law, and Minimizing the Risks, Privacy + Security Spring Academy
  May 6, 2020, Speaker

- "It's All About You!": Biometric Privacy Legal and Technological Developments, IAPP Global Privacy Summit
  April 16, 2020, Speaker

  2019, Speaker
Blogs

- Colorado Passes Comprehensive Consumer Privacy Law
  August 5, 2021

- Recent State Biometric Privacy Bills Put Spotlight On Federal Regulation
  April 28, 2021

- Ransomware On the Rise: Unwary Victims May Pay Twice
  November 12, 2020

- The Article III analysis for BIPA claims takes a new turn
  June 26, 2020

- BIPA Class Action Trends to Watch in 2020
  June 26, 2020

- Privacy Tips for Ed Tech Companies and Schools Conducting Remote Learning
  April 20, 2020

- New York’s Newly-Enacted SHIELD Act May Prove To Be Sword To Unprepared Businesses
  April 17, 2020

- Washington’s New State Facial Recognition Law May Signal a New Norm for Technology Providers
  April 3, 2020

- Practices to Stay Cybersafe While Remote Working
  March 25, 2020